I can tell you what women want with a good amount of insight; I have made this simple for any of us guy. However, I can't tell you how to show a woman that you are worthy of them. I have no clue how to inform you about that. There are no books on that. This will no doubt work for us guys, I am sure of this.

There is a lot of studies on men, but we know very little about women. This means there isn't that much to cover, I believe there is just enough to learn.

If you make 35k a year and you live on your own or with a roommate, you can easily get a woman. You have no way of saying "a woman doesn't want me." I simply don't believe that you are not good enough for a woman if you make at least that amount of salary a year. 93% of women marry men with higher incomes than them when the women are college educated, this will be difficult but possible. If your income is around the same, such as $8,000 less, I am confident this statistic can be overlooked.

If you want a woman, respect people you meet. She will know that you are someone that others want to be around, all women understand this concept.

Women want guys with options. It is that simple.

You can ask a woman if they were offended by what they heard from someone else.

Above all else, show a woman that you support her. You could get any woman you want if you do this showing success from what others have to say about you.

Let a woman decide how she feels and let her decide what she wants, this is the most important aspect of all.

Communication is key, the better the communication, the more the success.

She may not give a reason, but you will know if she is not interested in you. It will not work later in life as you already know.

Start a conversation off with "what interests you?" Then contribute to it.

Women want to have fun; it is a priority for them.

If you can show a woman you want to have fun with her, you cannot possibly lose.

Give her a reason why she would want you, come with something that she would remember you for.

Go after what you want in life, she will appreciate this so much.

Women want to feel wanted.

Get her to open up to you, it is that easy.

Women don't want to feel like they are competing with us guys. Show her that you appreciate her success.

Make clear what your intentions are.

Women want to stand out from other women. Woman put in a great effort to try to stand out from other women. Women always want the guy who they think sets them apart from other women. They are highly competitive with each other.

When you pay for dates, it makes her feel safe and secure.

Women want as much as they can get.

She may not tell the truth to you; she doesn't view it that way.

Women are attracted to the guy who doesn't give attention to them.

She wants the man who is the best fit and where she feels most protected with.

Women may have friends that they don't get along with.

Women don't want a man that works so much and has little time for them.

Just keep trying to find new women. When some don't work out, find a new set of women that could be interested in you.

Women want commitment. It is a priority in a marriage.

Women want you to take accountability for your own life. This is huge.

Look to see if she is fully engaged with you.

If a woman is worried she will lose you in a relationship with another woman, she is in love with you.

Women want relationships to go at their own pace.

Never ask a girl to be in a relationship with you, let her decide, she will tell you. Hint at being in a relationship with her.

Have many stories for her that she would find interesting. Women want us guys to be interesting. This is difficult.

Say to her a good amount "tell me more about that."

Try to sit close to her.

Look at her eye contact, if she gives you a bit of eye contact it is not a good sign.

Let her be who she is, it’s that simple. You could never mess this factor up.

Blonde hair women are the most likely to cheat.

She is going to notice your effort, when you put in a good effort, she will see it.

Women want to hear us guys opinions, but only for so long.

If a woman knows you will leave her if she cheats, she will respect you.

Most women view talking as a way to make a connection with us guys and to bring us closer to them.

Giving more will do absolutely nothing to getting a woman’s respect. Giving more becomes offering when it shouldn’t be.

The best place to meet women is through work through a girl’s mutual friends.

Women who work in trades or the medical field are more likely to cheat.

Try to listen and respond to what she says without bias.

Tell her that she is kind, inspiring, independent, honest, outgoing, intelligent, loyal, and that she’s a hard worker. Explain to her each value she is over time. Values matter most to a woman.

If she has moved on from past relationships, she is ready for you no concern there.

Women care if you are social and if people want to be around you.

When she fights with you, that means she cares about the relationship she’s in with you.

Women do not talk about their ex’s knowing us guys leave when they do this.

Make sure to network a good amount. Have many different women speak highly of you and she will take interest in you. The more that speak highly of you, the more women you will get.

Always take interest in her style of fashion, you cannot go wrong.

If she takes care of someone in her family in need, she is one to get with.

If she avoids offending people, she is one to get with.

Wait at least a month and a half before hooking up with a woman.

When a woman is interested in you, she is thinking long term.

Go to a park with a woman. Keep going back to the same park with her. This is key.

Make her feel heard. This is key.

Talk about herself speaking positively to her. This is key.

If you ask her questions, the conversation will continue. This is key.

If her cheeks are red when she is talking to you, she is blushing. This is key.

Show her you are knowledgeable in a subject. This is key.

Talk to her about what she is interested in. Ask several questions about what she takes interest in. This is key.

Women look for something they can hold on to such as a photo of a memory. This is key.

Talk to her about her feelings. This is key.

Ask her a good amount about events that have happened to her that are good. This is key.

When the values are in line, it will work from there and on. This is key.

Be direct with a woman. This is key.

Show her that you can manage finances. This is key.

Tell her “I can see why you would be upset by that” when she is having a rough time. This is key.

If she compliments you, say “thank you” and then compliment her back. She wants to be complimented; this is key.

One if not the best thing you can do for a woman is to try to understand her with a consistent effort. This is key.

She wants to see if you are interested in her. This is key.

Find thing you have in common with her. Share stories of the things you both share. This is key.

She wants to see if you can connect with her emotionally. This is key.

Women love attention to detail. This is key.

Remember the details she shares with you in a conversation. This is key.

She wants to be active in her life.

You have to show a woman that you put the foot down when she is out of line. This will make her attracted to you. This is key.

Show her she can reach higher goals. This is key.

Go for walks with a woman. This is key.

Women love empathy. Show empathy to her and others, this is key.

Women want to feel understood. This is key.

Ask her consistently “are you happy?” Assure her that this is your goal for her. If she is not happy, ask “what can I do to fix that?” This is key.

Cheer her up, this is key.

If she had a bad day at work, listen to her talk about it.

Women want to feel “free”, whatever that means to you. What I mean by this is “liberated” for lack of a better term.

She wants a guy to hold her hand.

Women dress the way their female friends dress.

If she doesn’t appreciate the first date, try again and then give up after the second date.

Talk about your problems to your guy friends not your wife.

If you hunt, most women will be into this.

When she says “get off your phone” she is saying she wants more attention from you.

If she is ever hurt emotionally, look her in her eyes and tell her “I understand you are hurt, and I will put in my effort to make sure you feel supported in any way need be”.

Don’t let her get jealous of other women, tell her how important she is to you.

If you do a side job, tell her about it.

Women want a leader.

Go to places local where she lives so she remembers you when she drives by the places you went with her to.

Women question many decisions they make in their life such as their career.

My advice is to spend less time with women, several women will want to be with you more.

Women want us guys to understand their feelings. They want to talk through their feelings. Ask her if she feels better after talking. Try again another time.

Women compete with each other so much. Make it so she doesn't want to compete as much. When she wants to compete with other women or is jealous of another woman, listen to her when she talks about it. Be consistent with this, if she knows you believe this about her, she will want to be around you. What you can tell her is, "You do a great job, you are supported."

Women like compliments from men more than they do women. This means when us guys compliment women, it goes further towards having a relationship with them.

Compliment her a decent amount.

Women are concerned they will get into a bad relationship with a guy.

Ask a woman when she is at her peak of happiness.

My advice is to have conversation after conversation with her no matter the length.

If she always makes an effort to talk to you and she's smiling, she's very much into you.

Ask her what her boundaries are early on. Tell her that you respect people's boundaries.

Women love to give their opinion on things. Ask her for it. This is very important.

Take note if she treats you differently from others. Don't look too far into it.

If she sees that you are enjoying life, she will want to be with you.

Ask her often what she wants to talk about.

Women may act a certain way to see how us guys respond to test us.

Women want boundaries in a relationship because then they have a good sense of what will bother us guys. Without boundaries, she feels insecure.

If you can show a woman that she can better put herself out there, it goes far for her to like you.

If you are patient with her, she loves this.

Check for signs that she is opening up to you. For instance, if she is explaining many details about herself to you. That means she wants to explain herself to you because she wants your respect and understanding. Try to get her to keep opening up to you, the more she invests in you, the more she will like you. If she opens up to you and encourages you to do the same, she is into you.

You have to find a woman that likes you for who you are and realizes you are trying to reason with the fact that she wants you to be a certain way. You have to tell her this is who I am, this is who you are, that's what works between us.

When she goes to some event, ask "what did you think of it?" It is that easy to ask.

When women make mistakes, they want to see that us guys just pass it off as if "whatever."

If she doesn't want to talk about her previous relationships for any reason, be it positive or negative, that is a good sign. This means she wants to move on from her past relationships.

A woman is looking for if you can have conversations with other people when you go out.

"I will listen to you vent" say this to a woman.

Opposites do not attract, do not listen to this.

She may tell you one thing one week and one week the next.

Women look for if us guys understand what they think in the current moment. It one thing they look for the most.

Women take it much more personal when other women insult them than when men do. Women avoid insulting each other as a result.

Women want you to be down for amusement, be part of the experience going on. So, watching a movie together, you are engaged with her.

What is crucial is to make sure she wants to be in a marriage, I have no clue how to ask this or how to notice it in a woman.

If she says no to a date, don’t stick around.

Show her you can use smartphone apps. Smartphone apps are so easy to use. She will appreciate this.

She may say one thing to you one week and then another to you the next about something relating to you and her.

Women want to know early on if you are into them or not. I wouldn’t recommend telling a woman if you are.

Over 95% of women want a masculine man who has some degree of it.

She wants to see you greet others you meet in the public that you can make many friends.

If she only hits you up when she needs something, she is taking advantage of you, break it off with her.

Women love guys who take command. That is what they want to hear and see about.

Have a clean place, she will appreciate this.

Women are attracted by what they hear.

If there are no boundaries, she will push you around.

She will try to create controversy to see how you respond to it. She does this to see if you still like her. She will do this a good amount of time.

The best thing you can do for a woman is keep listening to her.

Many women want to be number one in us guys lives.

A woman wants independence.

If you don’t want to go out with her anymore, tell her, “It was great meeting you tonight. I want to be fully transparent with you. I did not feel the chemistry. I hope you well in the future.”

If she asks to hang out with you first, she is strongly into you.

We all know that women never want to feel used.

If you advocate for her in group settings, she will appreciate it.

Women love guys who break the rules, but only so much of breaking the rules.

Fina a woman that has similar energy levels.

The more you are involved in, the more interest she will take in you.

If she says, "I can definitely beat you in a race", she is flirting with you.

She wants to be called by her name; she appreciates it.

Women like seeing our forearms.

Many women prefer indirect communication.

She wants a card or letter for Valetine's day.

If she stands taller, she wants your attention.

Women want to get married because they want commitment.

We all know this; women don't want to feel less.

Make sure you are willing to walk away from the women you are with.

Find a woman at a coffee shop, a bookstore, a college, volunteering, or an organized group. Not a gym of course.

Women tell other women that us guys do not talk enough, we don't listen, we never share our feelings.

Women are jealous of one another, it happens frequently. What results from this is women want more attention from others. She will want to be the center of attention. Women think attention from others will fix this for them, it doesn’t.

Women want to keep us guys wanting more so they keep details away from us guys. What you can do is keep asking for more details about her, this will invest her in you.

If you are too into fitness, women shy away from guys like this.

A woman does not lose sleep over a guy she doesn’t like.

Women love it when us guys invest time with them.

Women compare themselves to women who are famous on social media.

If you get along with her nieces and nephews, it goes far.

Women want to be taken seriously; this is important to them.

If she acts shy around you, she could be into you.

If she doesn’t know how much you are attracted to her, she will be more into you.

If you can multitask, she will appreciate this to some degree.

If you do a task for a woman, she won’t want to do a task for you, it upsets her when you ask her to do a task for you. Women want to do the task together with you. However, if she appreciate doing a task for you, she will do it herself.

For your friends and family, introduce her as your wife. She wants to be told this.

Women look for how us guys treat the waiter at a restaurant.

If women see that us guys are good to the woman us guys are with, many women will be into us guys, women take big note of this.

Women are always competing for I don’t know what with each other, I think status. Every woman has jealousy in them, and women have jealousy worse than the average man.

Don’t talk too much, let the woman talk. Speak cool, calm, and poised.

Don’t ever generalize women for anything. It offends all women. It is seen as prejudice against women.

Always trust her.

Be understanding.

A woman does not care if you as a guy have no relationship with your mother. If you don’t get along with your mother at all they don’t care.

If a woman needs you to pay for rent where she cannot pay for rent herself, she will see a good need of you. This is good.

A study was done in 2012 that showed women give out their numbers triple the amount when you have a cute dog.

It’s fine if she doesn’t want to answer follow up questions.
